gangs

produce a gang definition

- Include diverse distinctive gang behavior (but exclude the U of M football team)
- Start with a list of social characteristics that you think all gangs share
 - Behaviors and activities
 - Attitudes and beliefs
 - Leadership
 - Patterns of social interaction
 - Legal and/or illegal activities
 - Demographics: age, sex, urban residence, income, etc.
- Then formalize your definition, write it on a piece of paper, and turn it in with the signatures of all group members

classic soc. definitions - thrasher

- F. Thrasher (1927): A gang is an interstitial group, originally formed spontaneously, and then integrated through conflict. It is characterized by the following types of behavior: meeting face to face, milling, movement through space as a unit, conflict, and planning. The result of this collective behavior is the development of tradition, unreflective internal structure, esprit de corps, solidarity, morale, group awareness, and attachment to local territory.
- Elements
 - form in "cracks" of social fabric
 - face-to-face interaction
 - conflict gives common enemies: "men are closest to their brothers when they join in stoning others"
- Critique: too inclusive, fits football teams

- Elements
 - some level of organization
 - identifiable leaders
 - territory
 - recurrent associations
 - specific purpose
 - illegal activity

usdoj (2020) centers crime: "a gang is defined as..."

(1) an association of three or more individuals; (2) whose members collectively identify themselves by adopting a group identity which they use to create an atmosphere of fear or intimidation frequently by employing one or more of the following: a common name, slogan, identifying sign, symbol, tattoo or other physical marking, style or color of clothing, hairstyle, hand sign or graffiti; (3) the association's purpose, in part, is to engage in criminal activity and the association uses violence or intimidation to further its criminal objectives; (4) its members engage in criminal activity, or acts of juvenile delinquency that if committed by an adult would be crimes; (5) with the intent to enhance or preserve the association's power, reputation, or economic resources; (6) the association may also possess some of the following characteristics: (a) the members employ rules for joining and operating within the association; (b) the members meet on a recurring basis; (c) the association provides physical protection of its members from other criminals and gangs; (d) the association seeks to exercise control over a particular location or region, or it may simply defend its perceived interests against rivals; or (e) the association has an identifiable structure. (7) this definition is not intended to include traditional organized crime groups such as La Cosa Nostra, groups that fall within the Department's definition of "international organized crime," drug trafficking organizations or terrorist organizations.

how many gangs and members? [how would you measure? Rand in 2020]

- 2015 National Gang Intelligence Center (USDOJ)
 - Survey (fed, state, local, tribal) law enforcement
 - estimate ~30,000 US gangs (2012 report; discontinued)
 - ~850,000 active gang members (precision?)
 - Pyrooz & Sweeten (2015) estimated 1.1 million using self-report NLSY97 survey data
 - 88% are in nbhd-based street gangs, 10% prison gangs, 3% outlaw motorcycle gangs (OMG)
 - Tie to extremist groups, military, and government
 - Most on Facebook, YouTube, Instagram, Twitter
- Thornberry et al: gang members responsible for large proportion (1/3-2/3; LA & Chicago) of serious violent juvenile offenses (including homicide)
 - Most in gangs for relatively short time (< 2 years)
 - Blumstein: gangs/guns/crack and youth homicide

[Shaky] Law Enforcement Estimates of Gang Prevalence by State (NGIS 2011)

- Local (dis)organization
- MN in Context

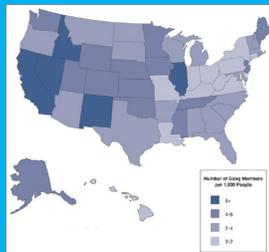

As Twin Cities street gangs evolve, traditional hierarchies vanish. Police say members are more mobile, violent and brazen.

By Chris Uggens (chris.uggens@twin-cities.com) and by Tomer Shalev (tom.shalev@twin-cities.com) for Twin Cities and others
February 4, 2016 - 10:00am

By the time the bullets stopped flying, more than 50 rounds littered the northeast Minneapolis street.

As police detectives continued to search for suspects in the shooting that led to a killing last June, they started to connect seemingly unrelated dots. Some of the alleged suspects belonged not only to Minneapolis street gangs, but also crews from across the river in St. Paul.

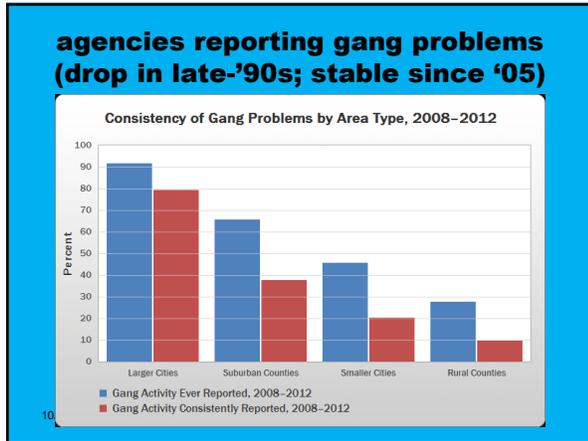

In many ways, the episode was symptomatic of the "Twin Cities" changing gang terrain. Youthful crew thought bloody but wars over drug sales have splintered into dozens of smaller, loosely organized groups that aren't confined by geographic boundaries. Members are more mobile, more brazen, more violent, authorities say. And they're no longer beholden to traditional hierarchies, according to those who pursue and study them.

policy and extensions

- Policy: Chicago Area Projects
 - Recreation, neighborhood health and sanitation, indigenous gang workers
 - Little evaluation data (Boston Midcity - no effect)
 - But, "moving to opportunity" experiment shows promise in reducing violent crime - at least for girls
 - Northside Achievement Zone (NAZ) in Minneapolis?
- Extensions: Robert Sampson (CWB) and "Neighborhood Collective Efficacy"
 - Combines social cohesion with shared expectations for social control (p. 152)
 - Survey measures of reaction to kids hanging out, firehouse closing; plus trust/cohesion of neighbors (correlated -.3 with crime rates in meta-analysis)

Robert Sampson (Immigration as Protective against Violence)

- Neighborhoods that can realize their own values have lower crime rates
- But! Immigration story is different today [US v. NOR]
 - Not "suicidal maniacs" p. 29, but lower crime
 - "Latino Paradox"
 - higher perceptions of disorder, but lower disorder
 - Raise denominator/not numerator
 - Vibrant low-crime cities
- Stable ("intact") families may be a mechanism (e.g., Kubrin)
